

Project Archaeology Educator Workshops

New and Exciting Opportunity for South Carolina Educators!

Learn first-hand how to help your students practice the basics of inquiry-based learning through cross-curricular lessons that teach archaeology and cultural understanding.

Archaeology is an excellent tool for cross-curricular education. Subjects covered in the workshop will include science, mathematics, social studies, history, language arts, geography, and the arts.

Participants will receive full instruction in archaeological science for the classroom and the award-winning curriculum guide Project Archaeology: Investigating Shelter for grades 3 - 5.

While the workshop will focus on lessons for grades 3 - 5, educators of all grade levels are encouraged to apply as many concepts within the curriculum can be taught across all grade levels.

Educators employed in SC public school districts may be eligible to receive renewal or professional development credit for attending the Project Archaeology workshop. Please contact your district's coordinator for pre-approval of credit.

Workshops will take place from 8:30am - 5pm at the Parker Annex Archaeology Center (2025 Barnwell Street, Columbia, SC 29201). Lunch will be provided for free.

Choose a Workshop

April 28-29, 2018

or

June 14-15, 2018

Register by

March 2, 2018

heritagetrust.dnr.sc.gov

For more information contact

Meg Gaillard

GaillardM@dnr.sc.gov

Sponsored by

PROJECT
ARCHAEOLOGY

